May 1989

Vol. 7 No. 3

OF THE SOCIETY FOR AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY

COPA Back in Action

by Shirley Powell and Jim Huffman

Shirley Powell (Northern Arizona University) was appointed head of the Committee on Public Archaeology in April, 1988. Assuming the leadership mantle from the able Leslie Wildeson, Powell's first action was to reestablish contact with each state's COPA representative to affirm commitment to COPA's lobbying activities.

During the fall legislative session COPA representatives were particularly helpful in tabling S.187, the Native American Cultural Preservation Act, which would have created a new federal bureaucracy to resolve disputes concerning collections of human remains, grave goods, and ceremonial objects.

In a related matter, COPA representatives from the eastern U.S. were notified of the development of a Forest Service Action Plan for the treatment and reburial of human remains for the Northeast and Southeast Regions, a plan inconsistent with both ARPA and Department of Interior guidelines. Representatives were asked to study the proposed plan and communicate their views to those at the Forest and Regional levels.

COPA representatives from various states were also asked to express their support as constituents of senators and representatives

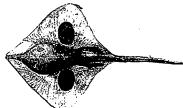

Future activities will include compilation of primary information on the reburial issue and a reassessment of "public archaeology" and COPA's role within the SAA.

Powell is assisted by Jim Huffman, also of Northern Arizona University.

Activities to date indicate a need for COPA representatives in the following states: Colorado, Connecticut, Indiana, Oregon, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia.

If you are interested in becoming a COPA representative, and if you have constructive suggestions for COPA activities, please contact: Shirley Powell or Jim Huffman, Department of Anthropology, Northern Arizona University, Box 15200, Flagstaff, AZ 86011. (602) 523-6573 or 523-3038.

Illustrations taken from watercolor drawings of carved and painted masks and tablets excavated at Key Marco by Wells M Sawyer, a member of the 1896 Geological Survey.

J.I. Stanley Prize Finalists

The five finalists for the 1989 J.I. Staley Prize for outstanding scholarship in the field of anthropology have been announced by the School for American Research in . Santa Fe, NM.

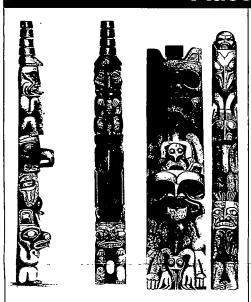

They are Culture and the Evolutionary Process by Robert Boyd, Sound and Sentiment: Birds. Weeping, Poetics, and Song in Kalulu Expression by Steven Feld, Cultural Materialism: The Struggle for a Science of Culture by Marvin Harris, Western Indians: Comparative Environments, Languages, and Cultures of 172 Western American Indian Tribes by Joseph Jorgensen, and Long Engagements: Maturity in Modern Japan by David Plath.

The finalists were chosen from a field of 35 nominees. The periodic $5000 award recognizes the author of an imaginative ground breaking publication which goes beyond traditional frontiers in anthropology and has given new insight into the understanding of humanity.

Members of the 1989 review panel are: Richard E. Blanton (Purdue University), Ronald Cohen (University of Florida), Munro S. Edmonson (Tulane University), and Bambi Schieffelin (New York University).

| In This Issue | |
|----------------------------------|------|
| Placement | ີ່ວ່ |
| Summer Field School | |
| New SAA Journal | |
| Funding Grants | |
| Scientist's Institute for Public | () |
| Information | . 5 |
| Meetings | . 6 |

Placement

Pacific Southwest Region

The USDA Forest Service, Pacific Southwest Region, expects to fill approximately 60 archaeology positions beginning February 17, 1989 for GS-193-5 and GS-193-7 positions.

Employment for one year may start as early as 1989. Job offers will be contingent upon successful completion of a medical examination at the applicants own expense.

Positions will be located at 12 Forests. For more information write: USDA Forest Service, Sierra National Forest, ATTN: Marsha Remily, 1130 0 St, Room 3017, Fresno, CA 93721.

Lassen National Forest

The Lassen National Forest is currently accepting applications from individuals interested in temporary jobs as archaeologists. They are looking for people with a range of skills, and have openings at various locations on the Forest. Government housing will be provided for most, if not all of these jobs. Starting dates will range from early April through early June.

Applications concerning announcement #11-00-03 may be obtained from Personnel Department, Shared Personnel Services, Plumas/Lassen/Mendocino National Forests, P.O. Box 11500, Quincy, CA 95971-6025.

Archaeologist Coordinator

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, Division of Environmental Analysis, has a permanent, full-time opening for an Archaeologist Coordinator.

Minimum requirements include a master's degree in anthropology, archaeology or cultural resource management (applied anthropology), or closely related field supplemented by one year of archaeology or anthropology with an emphasis in archaeology, United States prehistory, or cultural resource management (applied anthropology).

Beginning salary will depend on education, training and experience and will range between $18,324-$23,844 annually.

For details write: D.W. Lambert, Assistant Director, Division of Environmental Analysis, 419 Ann St, Frankfort, KY 40622. An Equal Opportunity Employer

Archaeologist/Cultural Resource Specialist

Freese and Nichols, Inc., an established engineering and environmental consulting firm in the Southwest, seeks an outstanding archaeologist/cultural resource specialist to join our Environmental Science Department. Applicants must have a Masters degree in archaeology of related field; thorough familiarity with federal and state legislation pertaining to archaeology and cultural resources; five years experience in all aspects of field work, data analysis, and report preparation including archaeological surveys, assessment and mitigation projects in the major cultural areas of Texas and the Southwest; excellent oral and written communication skills; and the ability to manage projects and contractors. Certification in SOPA is desirable. Freese and Nichols. Inc., is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Applicants should send a current resume to Gloria Griffin, Personnel Director, Freese and Nichols, Inc., 811 Lamar St., Fort Worth, Tx 76102.

Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc. Summer Field School

The Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc. is an independent, non-profit corporation that conducts research on the history and prehistory of New England. Its research findings are utilized to promote conservation and public awareness of archaeological remains as an important part of our cultural heritage.

This summer The Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc. will offer its second annual public field school in archaeology at the Lambert Farm site in Warwick, RI. The Lambert Farm site is at least 3,000 years old and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The site, however, will be destroyed by development in less than two years. Over 100 people have excavated at the Lambert Farm site since last summer and recovered prehistoric stone tools, food remains, pottery, and other various artifacts.

Three sessions will be offered during the summer. Session 1 (June 5-June 23) lasts three weeks, and both Session 2 (July 3-July 28) and Session 3 (July 31-August 25) lasts four weeks. The Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc. will provide its facilities and equipment, and participants are required to provide their own transportation to the site and laboratory.

Enrollment is limited to 15 participants per session, but people of all ages and backgrounds are encouraged to attend on a full-time or part-time basis. Both college and Rhode Island teacher inservice credit are available.

For further information, please contact Jordan Kerber or Alan Leveillee, Field School Co-Directors, at The Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc., 387 Lonsdale AV, Pawtucket, RI 02860. (401) 728-8780.

LATIN AMERICAN ANTIQUITY: A New SAA Journal

The Executive Committee of the Society for American Archaeology recently approved plans for the Society to launch a new journal, Latin American Antiquity. This iournal will publish articles dealing with the archaeology, prehistory, and ethnohistory of Mesoamerica, Central America, South America, and culturally related areas. It will appear quarterly beginning in Winter, 1990, and feature articles in English or Spanish.

Latin American Antiquity shares with its elder sister journal, American Antiquity, the goal of advancing the field of archaeology through publication of significant peer-reviewed contributions in method and theory, field research, and analysis. Such contributions will help Latin American Antiquity meet its special responsibility of providing a forum for direct communication between English- and Spanish-speaking colleagues working in Latin America. The initiation of this new journal does not mean that American Antiquity will cease publishing articles with a Latin American geographical focus, although the number of articles will doubtless be considerably reduced. Authors may submit their manuscripts to either journal.

The need for an archaeological journal devoted exclusively to Latin America has been recognized for some time, given the growth and increasing diversity within the field of archaeology as a whole. With the impetus provided by outgoing SAA President Dena Dincauze's efforts to increase participation of Latin American Colleagues in the Society, plans for Latin American Antiquity have been developing for more than a year under the leadership of Publications Committee chair E. Wyllys Andrews.

The new journal will be published by the Society and, like American Antiquity, be printed by the Allen Press at Lawrence, KS, with whom the Society has had an excellent working relationship over the years. Present plans call for four issues per year, emphasizing articles of wide interest to scholars. Although Latin American Antiquity will not include short articles or book reviews during its first year of publication, these features may be added in the future.

CULTURAL RESOURCE GROUP LOUIS BERGER & ASSOCIATES, INC. POSITION OPENINGS

The Cultural Resource Group, Louis Berger & Associates, Inc., (LBA) is expanding operations and seeks archaeologists to fill positions for both Principal Investigators and a Lithic Analyst. LBA conducts archaeological investigations on prehistoric and historic sites throughout the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast. For Principal Investigators, we seek highly motivated individuals to pursue quality archaeological research in a CRM context. Applicants must have Ph.D. or M.A. in Anthropology. Responsibilities include: design and implementation of research, coordination of laboratory analysis, and preparation of proposals and reports. Regional experience in Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, or Southeast desirable. For the Lithic Analyst position, applicants should have M.A. or B.A. in Anthropology or related field, and experience in (1) lithic raw material identification, (2) morphological classification, and (3) metrical and/or functional analysis of lithic artifacts. Responsibilities include classification and analysis of prehistoric lithic assemblages, and report preparation. LBA offers competitive salaries, medical and dental benefits, and retirement plan. Submit vitae, references, and date of availability to Ms. Margaret Jackson, Business Manager, The Cultural Resource Group, Louis Berger & Associates, Inc., 100 Halsted St., East Orange, NJ 07019. EOE.

We hope to create, both in format and appearance, a publication similar to American Antiquity. Latin American Antiquity will be edited by Prudence M. Rice (Florida), with the assistance of a 4-member Board of Editors: E. Wyllys Andrews (Middle American Research Institute), Frederick W. Lange (Colorado Museum), Joyce Marcus (Michigan), and Don S. Rice (Virginia). An Editorial Advisory Committee will be appointed shortly.

Subscription information: 1990, Vol. I (4 issues), Individual rate. SAA members $30.00; Individual rate, Latin American Scholars $20.00; Individual rate, non-members $60.00: Institutional rate, $60.00.

Payment may be made via check drawn on a U.S. bank, or by Visa or Mastercard. Please use the subscription form that accompanies this article, or write to: Latin American Antiquity, Society for American Archaeology, 808 17th St, N.W., #200 Washington, DC 20006.

Subscribe NOW, and please urge your university library to subscribe to Latin American Antiquity, TOO!

Call for Papers

Latin American Antiquity is soliciting manuscripts for its first issues, scheduled to appear beginning in January, 1990. Authors should submit an original and two copies of their manuscripts, which may be in English or Spanish. Matters of style and manuscript preparation should follow those of American Antiquity; see most recent issues for guidelines, or the April 1983 issue (vol. 48[2]:429-442) for a detailed style guide.

Direct all manuscripts or questions about editorial matters to the Editorial Office: Prudence M. Rice, Editor, Latin American Antiquity, Department of Anthropology, Florida Museum of Natural History, Museum Rd, Gainesville, FL 32611. U.S.A.

CIRCUM-PACIFIC PREHISTORY CONFERENCE

AUGUST 2-6, 1989

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY - CITY OF SEATTLE - WASHINGTON CENTENNIAL

Over 200 researchers from the USSR, Asia, the South Pacific, North, Central and South America will present the latest anthropological evidence revealing the past one million years of human heritage from throughout the Pacific Basin. You are invited to attend the five days of presentations and participate as Pacific researchers reveal their most recent findings, from the earliest evidence of human evolution in East Asia through the rise of half the world's formative civilizations.

DAYTIME SESSIONS The Secttle Center

- Human Evolution in the Pacific
- Occupation of Pacific Continents and Islands
- Development of Complex Maritime Societies
- Emergence of Formative Civilizations
- Rescue Archaeology in Pacific Development
- The Historical Linguistic Evidence for Pacific Heritage
- Historic Contacts in the Pacific
- Prehistoric Trans-Pacific Contacts
- Indigenous People's Perspectives (by Native Peoples)
- Future Oriented Pacific Prehistory Research
- Mitochondrial DNA Research into Pacific Origins

CHINCH THE THE

EVENING EVENTS

- Exhibit Viewing: USSR-Smithsonian-Canadian Crossroads of Continents: Cultures of Siberia and Alaska
- Arena Speaker: Author Jean Auel (Clan of the Cave Bear...): "The Land and its Life During the Ice Age"
- Arena Speckers: Academician Anatoly Derevanko (USSR) and Professor Robert Ackeman (USA):
 "East and West Perspectives: The Landbridge"
- Bonquet: Native Salmon Bake and Welcome: Tillicum Village, via cruise to Blake Island
- Reception and Viewing: Washington Native Heritage Exhibit: "A Time of Gathering", U.W. Burke Museum and "Washington Salutes Washington", Museum of History and Industry
- Post-Conference Tours: Washington Statewide Tour visiting Native Communities and Archaeological Sites; similar tours into British Columbia and Alaska

Plan to spend 5 days and "a million years" in the Pacific. For program, housing and registration information write: Circum-Pacific Prehistory Conference, Washington Centennial Commission, 1001 4th Avenue Plaza, Seattle, Washington, U.S.A. 98154-1101, telephone: 206-464-6580 TELEX: 6838153 BSCSEA/Facsimile: (206) 587-5023

Registration Discount for SAA Members!

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON THE WASHINGTON CENTENNIAL, CALL: (206)-586-1989

Call for Research Proposals

The Center for Field Research is accepting archaeological research proposals for review. Approved proposals are funded by our affiliate, EARTHWATCH, a private not-for-profit research and educational organization. All funds are derived from the contributions of participating volunteers selected from EARTHWATCH membership. All research proposals must therefore include a significant role for volunteer fieldworkers.

Preliminary proposals may be made by telephone or by a detailed twopage letter sketching the scholarly background of the research, the goals of the proposed project, the need for volunteer fieldworkers, and an estimated budget. Full proposals, to be submitted not later than one year prior to the projected start of fieldwork, will be invited upon favorable review of preliminary information. All full proposals are subject to independent peer review.

The Center will consider proposals for prehistoric, historic, and underwater archaeology anywhere in the world and we especially encourage proposals for research in the following areas: North America, Mesoamerica and the Central American Intermediate Area, Scandinavia, Central and South Asia, the Pacific Rim, and Sub-Saharan Africa.

Inquiries and applications may be sent to: The Director, The Center for Field Research, 680 Mt. Auburn St., P.O. Box 403C, Watertown, MA 02272. (617) 926-8200. FAX: (617) 926-8532.

H. John Heinz III Charitable Trust Grants

The H. John Heinz III Charitable Trust announces its grants program for archaeological fieldwork in Latin America for 1990. This program will fund three to four scholars to conduct archaeological research in Latin America. Applications for dissertation research will not be considered. The maximum amount of the award is $8,000. The deadline for submission is October 30, 1989, and notifications of the award will be made in January of 1990.

For complete information write Dixon R. Brown, Trustee, H.J. Heinz III Charitable Trust, 600 Grant St, Suite 4440, Pittsburgh, PA 15219.

Scientist's Institute for Public Information

The Scientist's Institute for Public Information is a nonprofit organization "working to improve public understanding of science and technology." It runs a Media Resource Service to put journalists in touch with reputable experts in the sciences, through a computer file of scientists whose names and telephone numbers can be given in response to queries on specific topics. In addition, the Institute has outreach programs with state and regional press associations, the Radio-Television News Directors Association, and journalism schools. Recently, Lucy Peets of the Institute invited archaeologists to become familiar with the Institute and its Media Resource Service. Write her at the SIPI, 355 Lexington AV, New York, NY 10017. (800) 223-1730 (in New York state [212] 661-9110).

PLOUGH, SWORD, AND BOOK

The Structure of Human History

Ernest Gellner

Eminent historian and anthropologist Gellner advances a comprehensive philosophy of history from the Neolithic age to the present.

"Gellner has produced a sharp challenge to his colleagues and a thrilling book for the nonspecialist. Deductive history on this scale cannot be proved right or wrong, but this is Gellner writing, incisive, iconoclastic, witty, and expert."—Adam Kuper. New Statesman

Cloth $24.95 288 pages

CURRENT PALEOETHNOBOTANY

Analytical Methods and Cultural Interpretations of Archaeological Plant Remains

Edited by Christine A. Hastorf and Virginia S. Popper

Combining case studies and theoretical discussions, this volume explores a wide range of issues relevant to collecting, analyzing, and interpreting plant remains to provide accurate information about past human societies. The contributors offer data on specific regions as well as information on the basic techniques of paleoethnobotany.

Paper $9.95 248 pages Library cloth edition $24.95 Prehistoric Archeology and Ecology series

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS 5801 South Ellis Avenue, Chicago, IL 60637

Meetings

Southeastern Archaeological Conference Annual Meeting

The 51st annual meeting of the Southeastern Archaeological Conference will be held in Tampa, FL from November 8-11, 1989, at the Harbour Island Hotel, located downtown right on the water (813) 229-5000). Hotel rooms are 75 per night. Abstracts for symposia and papers are due August 1, 1989.

This year, the 450th anniversary of De Soto's landing in Tampa Bay, the meeting will feature a reception at the Henry Plant Museum (a former Victorian hotel on the Hillsborough River), keynote speaker William Rathje, and a friday night dance with the theme of a "tacky Florida tourist" party (prizes for best outfits). Bring the family and arrange a trip to other Florida vacation attractions as well. Discount airline fares are available from Delta Airlines (call them at 1-800 221-1212 and ask for file #$433249).

For abstract forms and further information contact Nancy White, Department of Anthropology, University of South Florida, Tampa, FL 33620. (813) 974-2209 or 974-3231.

Cleveland State University Anthropology Faculty Position

Cleveland State University invites archaeologists with Midwestern and/or New World specializations to apply for tenure track position as Assistant/ Associate Professor. The position anticipated due to expected retirement. PhD, evidence of strong teaching, research required. CSU is urban, with competitive salaries, and especially seeks women and minority candidates.

Vita and names of three references by October 15, 1989 should be sent to:

Search Committee, CSU, E 24th and Euclid Ave. Cleveland OH 44115. Equal Opportunity Employer m/f/h

Annual Chacmool Conference: The Archaeology of Gender

The 22nd Annual Chacmool Conference will be held at the University of Calgary and focus upon "The Archaeology of Gender." The conference will generate discussion and stimulate new research on the roles and interactions of men and women in prehistory. For information contact Program Committee, Department of Archaeology, University of Calgary, Alberta, Canada T2N 1N4.

International Congress for Caribbean Archaeology

The 13th International Congress for Caribbean Archaeology will meet July 23-29, 1989, at Willemstad, Curacao, Netherlands Antilles. Eleven sessions are planned, including method and theory, prehistoric technologies, Spanish Caribbean historical archaeology, human remains, and underwater archaeology. For information contact Jay B. Haviser, Jr., Chair, Institute for Archaeology and Anthropology, Johan van Walbeeckplein 6-6, Willemstad, Curacao, Netherlands Antilles. 599-9-613304.

Midwest Archaeological Conference

The Midwest Archeological Conference will be held in Iowa City, IA, October 13-15, 1989, and will be hosted by the Office of the State Archeologist (OSA), University of Iowa. Abstracts for symposia are due August 4, 1989. Abstracts for contributed papers are due September 8, 1989. For information contact William Green or Stephen Lensink, OSA, Eastlawn, University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA 52242. (319) 335-2389.

Conference on Prehispanic Ceramics of Morelos, Mexico

The Centro Regional Morelos (INAH) will host a workshop/ conference on Prehispanic ceramics of the state of Morelos on June 14-16, in Cuernavaca. The conference is titled "Primera Reunion Sobre Ceramicas Prehispanicas de Morelos y Estados Circunvecinos: Su Contexto Espacial y Temporal." this will be working meeting focused on the artifacts themselves. In place of formal presentations, there will be direct inspection and discussion of ceramics with emphases on the themes of chronology and spatial distribution.

A major goal of the conference is to establish more firmly the ceramic sequences in various parts of the state of Morelos. One day each will be devoted to the Formative (June 14), Classic/Epiclassic (June 15), and Postclassic (June 16) epochs. The theme of spatial distribution will include consideration of patterns within Morelos as well as interaction with other areas. The organizers are particularly anxious to have the active participation of scholars working in the Basin of Mexico, Puebla/Tiaxcala, and Guerrero, to compare types, styles, and other patterns. Such participants are encouraged to bring along type collections for direct comparisons.

For further information, contact Silvia Garza (INAH) or Michael Smith (Loyola); both can be reached by phone during the day at the Centro Regional Morelos in Cuernavaca (011-52-731-23108). Smith's address is: Apartado Postal 5-129/Cuernavaca, Morelos/C.P. 62050/Mexico.

International Congress of Americanists

The 47th International Congress of Americanists will meet in New Orleans, LA, U.S.A. July 7-11, 1991. Scholars interested in presenting papers or organizing symposia may communicate with: Secretariado ICA 1991, Roger Thayer Stone Center for Latin American Studies, Tulane University, New Orleans, LA 70118-5698, E.U. (504) 865-5164.

Groundbreaking Titles

QUANTIFYING ARCHAEOLOGY

Stephen Shennan

"...Shennan's book is an important addition to the handful available which explain mathematical and computer techniques for archaeologists....I am sure it will have a significant and beneficial impact on the discipline."

-James Doran in JOURNAL OF ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCIENCE

1988, 364 pages, $34.95 ISBN: 0-12-639860-7

THE ORIGINS OF AGRICULTURE An Evolutionary Perspective

David Rindos

"...the book as a whole raises to a new conceptual level our understanding of the evolutionary processes involved in the origins and spread of agriculture."

> -JOURNAL OF ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCIENCE

Paperback Reprint: $24.95 ISBN: 0-12-589281-0 1987, 325 pages

DEBATING ARCHAEOLOGY

Lewis R. Binford

As the leading theoretician and principal spokesman of the "New Archaeology" for the past thirty years, all archaeologists will find Binford's Debating Archaeology an important addition to the literature. This book includes:

- · Extensive discussions of empiricism and the assumptions of "post Processual" archaeology
- Discussion of science as a learning process in conflict with empiricism
- · Examination of the current scholarly conflict over the nature of early hominids
- Examination of the current scholarly conflicts in archaeological theory
- Several old, established sites are reexamined and shown not to support their traditional interpretations.

April 1989, 520 pages, $44.95 ISBN: 0-12-100045-1

RADIOCARBON DATING LITERATURE

The First 21 Years, 1947-1968

An Annotated Bibliography

Dilette Polach

FROM THE FOREWORD: "...Mrs. Polach has given us a book which is both comprehensive, as to the literature to 1968, and excellently annotated."

> -Professor John Chappell AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY

1988, 370 pages, $49.50 ISBN: 0-12-559290-6

NEW

THE FLOCKS OF THE WAMANI A Study of Llama Herders on the Punas of Ayacucho, Peru

Kent V. Flannery, Joyce Marcus, and Robert G. Reynolds

In this volume, the authors present an original ethnographic study of five llama herding communities in Ayacucho, Peru. Data on herd dynamics are subjected to computer modeling in an effort to evaluate the roles of biology, symbolic and ritual behavior, ecological adaptation, and practical reason. The book contains the most detailed study of the waytakuy llama marking ceremony yet available. The role of this ceremony in preventing herds from going to extinction is evaluated against anthropological and sociobiological theory.

In Paperback: $24.50 ISBN: 0-12-259836-9 Casebound: $49.95 ISBN: 0-12-259835-0 March 1989, 239 pages

THE ORIGINS OF AGRICULTURE An Evolutionary Perspective

David Rindos "...the book as a whole raises to a new conceptual level our understanding of the evolutionary processes involved in the origins and spread of agriculture."

> -JOURNAL OF ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCIENCE

Paperback Reprint: $24.95 ISBN: 0-12-589281-0 1987, 325 pages

ACADEMIC PRESS

Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Publishers.

Book Marketing Department #06059, 1250 Sixth Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101

CALL TOLL FREE 1-800-321-5068

New Publications

Artificial Intelligence and Expert Systems: Case Studies in the Knowledge Domain of Archaeology. J.C. Gardin, ed. (Richard Ennals, transl.). Halsted Press, NY, 1988. $49.95.

Conceptual Issues in Environmental Archaeology. John L. Bintliff, Donald A. Davidson, and Eric G. Grant, eds. Columbia University Press, NY, 1988. $60.00.

Current Paleoethnobotany: Analytical Methods and Cultural Interpretations of Archaeological Plant Remains. Christine A. Hastorf and Virginia S. Popper, eds. University of Chicago Press, Chicago, 1988. $24.95 (cloth), $9.95 (paper)

The Foxie Otter Site: A
Multicomponent Occupation North of Lake Huron. Christopher C. Hanks.
Museum of Anthropology, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. np (paper)

Current Exhibitions

American Museum of Natural History, New York, NY. "The Pre-Columbian Cultural Record" (through June)

South Street Seaport Museum, New York, NY. "Beneath the City Streets: Archaeology on Wall Street" (through May 2)

Belize Data Banks

For the purposes of establishing a data bank and organizing a conference, we are trying to identify individuals actively entered engaged in research in Belize in all academic disciplines. In responding, please identify general area of interest, specific research topics, current research project(s), and publications. Forward information to Dr. Thomas M. Leonard, Department of History, University of North Florida, Jacksonville, FL 32217.

Radiocarbon Dating

by

Accelerator Mass Spectrometry

- 8 weeks turnaround time
 - milligram sized samples
 - competitive prices

Enquiries to: Dr Rodger Sparks Institute of Nuclear Sciences Box 31312, Lower Hutt, New Zealand Tel: (644) 666 919, Fax: (644) 690 657

The Bulletin of the Society for American Archaeology, ISSN 1741-5672, is published six times a year. David H Dye, PhD is the Editor, and he asks that all articles, announcements, letters to the editor, or other information for inclusion in the Bulletin be sent to him at the Department of Anthropology, Memphis State University, Memphis, TN 38152. All advertising should be sent to the Advertising Director, Suite 200, 808 17th St NW, Washington, DC 20006, by the first of the month prior to the month of issue. The Bulletin is provided free to all US and Canadian members and institutions as part of their subscription to the Society journal American Antiquity. The newsletter is published in January, March, May, July, September, and November. Items published reflect the views of the authors and their publication does not imply endorsement of those views.

Society for American Archaeology 808 17th St NW Suite 200 Washington DC 20006 Non-Profit Org. U.S. Postage PAID Washington, DC Permit No. 4832